

DiPVaC 7 – Registration Cancellation and Refund Policy

7th Conference on Discourse–Pragmatic Variation and Change

University of Salzburg

23–25 September 2026

Registration fees are payable upon registration. Cancellations must be submitted in writing to the conference organisers by email. Refunds are calculated according to the date on which written notice of cancellation is received.

Refund schedule

- Cancellations received on or before 30 June 2026: full refund, less an administrative fee of € 20.00.
- Cancellations received between 1 July 2026 and 17 August 2026: 50% refund of the registration fee.
- Cancellations received on or after 18 August 2026: no refund.

Payment and incomplete registration

Registration is not complete until full payment has been received. Participants who have registered but not paid, and who notify the organisers of cancellation before the close of registration on 18 August 2026, incur no fee.

The applicable fee is determined by the date of payment, not the date of registration. An early-bird rate applies only if payment is received by 1 June 2026; registrations paid after this date are charged at the rate in force on the date of payment.

Processing of refunds

Refunds will be processed after the conference. Any bank transfer charges are borne by the participant.

Substitutions

A registered participant who is unable to attend may nominate a substitute at no extra charge, subject to written notice to the organisers before the conference.

Cancellation of the conference

Should DiPVaC 7 be cancelled by the organisers, for example due to force majeure, registration fees already paid will be refunded in full. No further claims, for instance for travel or accommodation costs, can be accepted.
